

Accelerating the Worldwide Growth of codeBeamer ALM

Andreas Pabinger appointed as Intland Software's
Vice President of Worldwide Sales

Stuttgart, Germany, December 20, 2016 (NewsWire.com)

Intland Software, developer of the market-leading Application Lifecycle Management tool codeBeamer ALM, named Andreas Pabinger as Vice President of Worldwide Sales. Andreas will lead Intland's Field Operation and Channel Partners to help an increasing number of existing and new customers stay ahead in their product innovation capability in a global and highly dynamic market environment.

To further the company's efforts in helping its customers adopt Agile and other innovative development practices, Andreas brings more than 24 years of senior management experience within the software and hardware industry. Having held senior sales and management positions at Kontron, Take Five Software, and Wind River, a wholly owned subsidiary of Intel and a leading software vendor for embedded devices, Andreas has in-depth experience in market segments relevant to Intland Software's strategic goals.

"Intland's rapid growth has always been fueled by its understanding of, and ability to efficiently respond to current and future challenges faced by its customers," said Janos Koppány, CEO of Intland Software. "I'm confident that Andi's knowledge of the embedded software industry will help us better react to fast evolving market trends, and contribute with his proven experience to our product innovation. Having managed leading edge software companies for over two decades, Andi has the skills and expertise that will help accelerate our innovation and growth, fortifying Intland's position on the ALM market."

"I'm very excited to join Intland and look forward to working with the team to further accelerate our worldwide growth in the ALM market. With codeBeamer's scalable, certifiable, and highly flexible end-to-end ALM capabilities we are able to create unmatched Agile innovation capabilities for our valued customers," said Andreas Pabinger, Intland Software's new VP of Sales.
